Overcrowded.

A few words about the inner workings of this business. Two months ago our orders for furniture could not be filled. Factories could not manufacture sufficient to meet the demands. Unprecedented selling depleted our stocks. We entreated and threatened. Order after order was given.

That was upward of two months ago.

NOW-within the past two weeks, twenty solid carloads of furniture have been received. Every department, every warehouse, every available square inch of space, is overcrowded—so much so that it is a difficult matter, and in some cases impossible, to properly display the goods.

The situation calls for an immediate reducing of the stocks. To accomplish this, we have made heavy reductions in prices Brand new goods-just from the makers-every piece both desirable and of high grade—are offered at practically what they cost in order to quickly relieve the pres-

ANNUAL BANQUET

Members of Burnside Post, G. A. R., Hold a Reunion.

LARGE NUMBER OF GUESTS PRESENT

Responses to Toasts by Senator Hawley and Others.

APPLAUSE FOR EXPANSION

The eighth annual banquet of Burnside Post, No. 8. Department of the Potomac, G. A. R., took place last evening at the Ebbitt House. The event was a great success and reflected much credit on the committee of arrangements, which was composed of Dr. A. J. Huntoon, chairman, and Messrs, I. G. Kimball, George C. Ross, J. E. Hart, D. M. Goodacre, L. E. Gridley, L. Vanderhoef, J. F. Johnson and T. W. Tallmadge. Before sitting down at the handsomely decorated tables Rev. Dr. Geo. P. Wilson, paster of Assembly Presbyterian Church, by request, invoked the divine blessing.

Following the banquet Dr. A. J. Hunton, who presided, made some brief but graceful remarks and introduced the Rev. Dr. Fiske, who spoke on the toast "The President of the United States." He paid a glowing tribute to the present occupant of that high office. He asserted that the President of the United States has more influence than any other man in the world, by reason of the grandeur of the office he holds.

Dr. Fiske referred in eloquent terms to the work accomplished by President Mc-Kinley in enlarging the bounds of the United States, and said his actions had given the country a place in the family of nations it had never before enjoyed.

The Grand Army. The next toast, "The Grand Army, of the Republic," was responded to by Mr. W. W. Brown, auditor for the War Department, "It is a mistake," the speaker said, "to think that the Grand Army of the Republic was organized in Decatur, Ill., in 1866. It was organized in Decatur, Ill., in 1896. It was really founded five years before, when the Union army consisted of two and a half millions of men. Of these 67,000 stood up to be killed in battle, 40,000 died from wounds, 224,000 were discharged for disability, and when the remaining two millions were discharged at the close of the civil war they went back into society and did more for their country than had all the armies that ever trod the earth."

Mr. George C. Ross effectively read a poem of greeting written for the occasion poem of greeting written for the occasion by F. C. Long.

Mr. Binger Hermann, commissioner of the Mr. Binger Hermann, commissioner of the land office, spoke eloquently in response to the toast "The Army." He referred to the army during the war of the rebellion, to its great achievements, and then said: "In the recent war with Spain, which was the shortest war on record, there were engagements when the losses amounted to 30 per cent. In 100 days this nation was advanced so far that 100 years cannot overtake them. More was accomplished in that hundred days than was done in 100 years before. During that war not a prisoner was taken from the Americans nor a color captured."

captured."
"The Navy" was the toast to which Rev. Dr. David H. Moore of Cincinnati spoke, He referred to the achievements of Admiral Dewey, and said the navy was started by Paul Jones, whose remains will soon be brought to this country, and when his dust shall reach these shores everybody ought to give the old hero a hearty welcome. He pald a glowing tribute to the men of the American navy.

Senator Hawley's Response.

Senator Hawley of Connecticut was called on and said: "We have a right to be proud of the result of the war with Spain. We did not engage in it for hatred. We did it to seengage in it for hatred. We did it to secure fair play in the world. It was perfectly right for the government to give orders to Dewey to take care of the Spanish fleet in the Philippines. Some people asked: Why did not Dewey come home after he took Manila? It was because Dewey was neither a traitor nor a fool. Besides he was bound in honor, when he found the affairs of an empire on his shoulders, to take care of the people of the various nations in the Philippines. Had the Filipinos done what they should, rethe Filipinos done what they should, returned to their occupations in time of peace, they would have been far advanced in that civilization which is bound to come in that civilization which is secures, peace in after the United States secures peace in the Philippines."

Col. Charles P. Lincoln made some remarks on "The Loyal Women of America," in which the paid a magnificent tribute to the sex.

Each of the responses elicited hearty applause, Commander A. F. Sperry read an interesting history in response to the toast "Burnside Post." The post has, since its organization, he said, disbursed from its elief fund amounts ranging from $6, in the year 1884, when the demands were least, to $344 in 1893, and aggregating up to the present time a net total of $1,503.99, not including any part of the considerable sum of dues remitted to comrades in financial White Man's Burden.

Maj. J. W. Powell, formerly chief of the geological survey, spoke on the "White Man's Burden." After referring to what the government had done for the Indians he said there is something about savages which prevents their assimilation with civulized people. There is not, he said, a single case on record of a pure-b'ooded Indian becoming a citizen of the United States. There are Indians in every state in the Union, but they still preserve their tribal relation. They cannot become citizens of the United States because they are divided by the Contential formed to the Contential formed

Major Powell asserted that of the millions of people in the Philippines not 25,000 can ever be induced to become citizens of the United States. In conclusion the speaker said he believed the United States could bear the burden that has been put could bear the burden that has been put upon it, and for his part he was not afraid to have the government undertake it, which sentiment was applauded. During the evening Miss Edna Scott Smith sang a solo, and vocal selections were rendered by the Capital Concert Quin-tet and Burnside Post Glee Club

"If they're Rich's shoes they're proper."

Ten-Two F.

We shall be in the new store before the end of the week just at hand. Our formal "Opening" will take place a few days afterwards. It is an enormous undertaking to move this stock. The entire fall and winter stock has had to be moved, for you know the new store was not nearly completed when it ar-

Several departments are already in their new quarters. We have been moving at night to avoid inconvenience which would necessarily arise should we do it during business hours.

The new store is indeed an ideal shoe shop. Everything new-every convenience-everything to add to your comfort. Perfectly lighted-richly and artistically decorated and furnished with the very newest in rugs and furniture to make it handsome in appearance. It will without doubt be the most luxurious shoe store in the south, but not more so than it should-for it should be in keeping with the character of Rich's footwear, which, as you know, is exclusive and distinctive. With quarters five times as large, we have necessarily bought more largely than ever before. You know that as it was we should double the variety of styles to be seen elsewhere and five times the variety in "novelty" foot-

Wedding and evening footwear are here, and we can truthfully claim that our display of it is unequaled by ANY store. The same applies to the line of sporting footwear-the shoes and boots for golfing, riding, bicycling, hunting, as well as gymnasium slippers and Oxfords, footwear for butlers, coachmen, waiters, nurses and maids.
